Unit – 4 : Session – 5 | Deluded Self, Pure Self and Holistic Development

Part C — Long-Answer Questions (Solutions)

1. Q1. DELUDED SELF vs PURE SELF — BASIS OF IMAGINATION: the Deluded Self imagines on the basis of PRECONDITIONING and SENSATION (assumptions absorbed from society, bodily tastes); the Pure Self imagines on the basis of KNOWING/NATURAL ACCEPTANCE (verified understanding of co-existence). ACTIVE LEVEL: the Deluded Self operates at the level of assuming-without-knowing — hence desires, thoughts and expectations are indefinite and contradictory; the Pure Self operates at the level of knowing — hence imagination is definite and in harmony. OUTCOME: the Deluded Self produces excitement followed by emptiness, exploitation and conflict; the Pure Self produces continuous happiness, definite conduct and mutual fulfilment. Transformation (holistic development) is the journey from the first to the second.
2. Q2. WHY physical facility alone CANNOT transform a human being: transformation is a change at the level of the SELF's activity — from assuming-without-knowing to knowing — and physical facility addresses only the BODY. No quantity of money, comfort or technology can produce understanding or right feeling; evidence: wealthy, comfortable people are often anxious, isolated and exploitative. HOLISTIC DEVELOPMENT requires all THREE components: (1) RIGHT UNDERSTANDING in the Self (through value education/self-exploration), (2) RIGHT FEELING/RELATIONSHIP with human beings (trust, respect... in family and society), (3) PHYSICAL FACILITY for the body — produced and used with right understanding. Only the three together constitute development of the human being as co-existence of Self and Body.
3. Q3. REALISATION OF CO-EXISTENCE -> UNIVERSAL HUMAN ORDER: when the Self realises (sees directly, not merely believes) that existence is co-existence — units submerged in space in harmony — its assuming becomes anchored in knowing. From such realised individuals come: definite human conduct, families of trust and prosperity, a society of fearlessness, and systems (education, production, justice, exchange) designed for mutual fulfilment — which together constitute the Universal Human Order. The order is thus not legislated from outside; it is the natural expression of realised human beings at every level from family to world family.
4. Q4. A RECENT DECISION analysed: choosing between buying an expensive gadget on impulse versus continuing with my working phone. B2 (sensation/preconditioning) said: 'everyone has the new model; it will feel good' — the pull was real and strong. B1 (realisation/right understanding) asked: 'is this a real need of the body? will it serve my relationship or understanding?' — the honest answer was no. I acted on B1, kept the phone, and felt settled rather than deprived — the satisfaction lasted, unlike the brief excitement of past impulse buys. This small instance showed me that decisions guided by B1 give continuity of happiness while B2 gives only sensation.
